

SOCIETY

MRS. EDWARD BLANCHARD was hostess at one of the most original and delightful luncheons of the season when she entertained at the University Club yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Paul Marshall Bates (Miss Ray Bell), wife of Ensign Paul Marshall Bates of the U. S. S. California. The Club reception room was prettily decorated with palms and American Beauty roses while the dining room was given a tropical appearance with palms. In place of the conventional linen cloth, Mrs. Blanchard had the table covered with a large, centerpiece done in natural nasturtium shades and beautiful lace doilies that contrasted with the dark wood of the table. In the center of the table was a basket draped with yellow tulle and filled with varicolored nasturtiums and maidenhair fern. Blossoms of the same flowers were scattered on the cloth. Placed on the table at intervals were little old shoes filled with rice. Each guest was presented with a tiny suit case filled with candy and an arm band with U. S. S. California done in gold and an American Beauty rose. One of the pretty little conceits of the luncheon was the manner in which the ice was served. Miniature flower pots were filled with chocolate coated ice and from the center of each an American Beauty rose lifted its head, the whole giving the effect of a growing rose. Heart-shaped menu cards bearing the initials of the guest of honor marked each cover. The menu was made up of questions, and the answers were the dishes served.

Where did her lover love to sit? Lobster.
What did he call his rival? Lobster.
How did she wear her hair? In Rolls.
When he asked her to go for a ride what did she say? Lettuce.
What did he say to her when she was ill? Olive (Ah Live).
What did they feel like when they were being married? Ice.
The menu itself was a source of amusement to the guests as the idea is quite new to Honolulu.

The afternoon hour was spent at fan tan. The first prize was taken by Miss Evelyn Scott and was a large dark red corsage rose done up in a florist's box. The consolation, a bottle of catsup, was given to Mrs. Mame Moore and aunt of the guest of honor. Mrs. Bates herself was given a dainty silver sugar spoon. Those invited to the luncheon were Mrs. Paul Marshall Bates, Mrs. J. N. Bell, Mrs. Mame Moore, Miss Martha McChesney, Miss Evelyn Scott of Chicago, Mrs. Harmon Anderson, Miss Gwendolyn Blair, Mrs. Charles Cain and Miss Orpah Starratt.

engagement of her daughter, Vera Gretham, to Mr. William W. James of Wahiawa. Miss Vera is the granddaughter of General Gretham Kempster, late of the British Army. Mr. James is the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. James of the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

Mrs. Charles Chillingworth's Poi Luncheon.
On Wednesday, afternoon Mrs. Molyneux Worthington was the guest of honor at a poi luncheon at which Mrs. Charles Chillingworth was hostess at her home on King street. The affair was indeed pretty, the decorations being done in two shades of yellow. The table centerpiece was of the graceful drooping golden shower blossoms and maidenhair ferns, and at the place of each guest was an illuna lei of a darker shade than the golden shower. The guests included Mrs. Majesty Queen Liliuokalani, Mrs. Molyneux Worthington, Princess Kahanaloa, Princess Kawananakoa, Mrs. Dargie, Mrs. S. G. O. King, Mrs. P. W. Coleman, Mrs. Clifton Carter, Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Julius Unger, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Harold Hayselden, Mrs. Parish, Mrs. K. Stillman, Mrs. Murray, Miss Ethel Whiting, Mrs. Dominis, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. O. Stillman, Mrs. Ramsay, Miss Sperry, Miss Margaret McIntyre, Mrs. Hons, Mrs. Smythe, Miss Irene Dickson, Mrs. Freitas (Miss Adele Grier), Mrs. F. Stillman, Miss Robertson, Mrs. Pederson.

After luncheon Mrs. Worthington, whose splendid contralto voice is so well known in Honolulu, sang several solos. Later the guests enjoyed a game of bridge.

Miss Anna Ashley's Birthday Party.
The one juvenile party of the week was that given by Mrs. George Ashley in celebration of the eleventh birthday of her daughter Anna. About thirty little girls gathered at Mrs. Ashley's home at Kaimuki on Thursday to spend the afternoon playing games. Prizes were awarded the successful contestants in the games and all of the children had a thoroughly good time. The invited guests were Miss Patty Waterhouse, Miss Elizabeth Waterhouse, Miss Marguerite Belser, Miss Adelaide Pratt, Miss Elsie Phillips, Miss Margaret Phillips, Miss Eleanor Lyster, Miss Irma Tarleton, Miss Gretchen Bierbach, Miss Dorothea Cooke, Miss Martha Cooke, Miss Anna Cooke, Miss Mabel Delaporte, Miss Pauline Kluegel, Miss Catherine De Freest, Miss Alice Sharp, Miss Hazel Dennison, Miss Catherine McLain, Miss Caroline Gartenberg, Miss Laura Pratt, Miss Alta Kennedy, Miss Dorothy Chamberlain, Miss Marie Humphreys, Miss Frances Humphreys, Miss Marian Stoddard, Miss Alice O'Conner, Miss Louise O'Conner, Miss Mabelita Mead, Miss Sybil Johnstone, Miss Bonnie Towse, Miss Marjorie Hoogs, Miss Charlotte Ballou, Miss Bertha Clark, Miss Frances Clark, Miss Jessie Bon and Miss Keoloha Waterhouse.

Miss Iwalani Ripley Entertains.
Miss Iwalani Ripley was hostess at an informal dance last evening at the Mark Robinson home at Waikiki. The guests included Miss Marjorie Chapin, Miss Marian Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edward Davis, Miss Mildred Chapin, Mr. Ralph Gray, Mr. Roller, Mr. Schultz and Mr. Shirley Bush.

The Wednesday Evening Card Club.
The Wednesday Evening Card Club was entertained this week by Miss May Thomas at the Hawaiian Hotel. The ladies prize a filligree silver creamer and sugar bowl was given to Mrs. George Currey. Mr. Chester Huns received a gold color button. Among those present were Professor and Mrs. Arthur Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. De Freest, Mr. and Mrs. George Currey, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Huns, Mr. Woodford, Mr. Gaynor, Mr. Will Thomas and the hostess.

Mr. Arthur Restarick's Yachting Party.
Mr. Lothrop Withington is guest of honor at a yachting party aboard the yacht Hawaii this afternoon at which Mr. Arthur Restarick is host. The invited guests are Mr. Lothrop Withington, Miss Myrtle Schumann, Miss Fanny Hoogs, Miss Marjorie Gilman, Miss Hazel Gear, Miss Dora Atwater, Miss Blascoer, Miss Davis, Miss Margaret Restarick, Mr. Watson Ballentine, Mr. Percy Nottage, Mr. Edmund Melanphy, Mr. William Hoogs, Mr. Alan Renton and Mr. Harold Gear.

Mrs. Haneberg's Luncheon.
Mrs. Armin Haneberg entertained at an elaborate luncheon at the Country Club on Wednesday for Mrs. Antone Cropp, who will leave Honolulu in September. The color scheme for the decorations was yellow and was developed with masses of yellow flowers and yellow satin ribbon. Covers were laid for fifty-nine.

Princess Kawananakoa's Dinner-Dance.

The Princess Kawananakoa entertained at an elaborate dinner and dance at Pearl City on Wednesday evening. There were about fifty guests present.

Country Club Ball.

Invitations are out for the ball to be given at the Country Club on Tuesday night of next week. The ball promises to be one of the most brilliant to be added to the annals of Honolulu's long list of ultra swell functions, and is being looked forward to with pleasure. As the affair is in the nature of a housewarming or celebration of the opening of the addition to the Country Club, it will perhaps be the forerunner of a number of elaborate functions to be given there in the near future.

Miss Edith Cowles Informal Bridge Party.

On Tuesday afternoon Miss Edith Cowles was hostess at a delightfully informal bridge party in complement to Miss Helen Rockwell with her mother Mrs. Rockwell will leave Honolulu in the very near future. Among those present at Miss Cowles were Miss Helen Rockwell, Mrs. Rockwell, Miss Helen Brown, Miss Julia McStocker, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Gerald Johnson, Mrs. James Pine, Mrs. Douglas McDougal, Mrs. Stevens and others.

Social Struggle on Manchuria.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 15.—It was California pitted against old Virginia for the ephemeral thrill of being the guiding hand in the social gayeties of the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria in the long voyage from the Orient that ended in this port yesterday.

Although Miss Caroline D. Carey, herself related by blood and marriage to Mrs. Burton Harrison, member of New York's Four Hundred and of the Old Dominion family of Careys, was aided and abetted in the frolicsome striving for supremacy in the ship world by two of the prominent society leaders of Boston, who had been making a tour of the Far East, the palm for keeping every one feeling "right jolly," as a young English globe-trotter expressed it, had to be awarded to another.

Miss C. Mari de Forest, daughter of A. T. de Forest, a steel-trust magnate, banteringly challenged Miss Carey to the contest a few minutes after the big steamer left Hongkong, and from then on each young woman carefully laid her plan of campaign and followed it up according to the most modern tactics. Miss de Forest had been on a two months' trip to the Philippines with her mother, a society leader of Palo Alto.

Miss de Forest quickly had ranged on her side Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Fawcett of London, England. That was the trump card.

With the prestige of Fawcett's membership in the Constitutional Club of London, which boasts no less personages than former Prime Ministers on its rolls, there was no resisting any of the dances or deck sports suggested by the girl he had taken under his wing.

The chief prompters of Miss Carey were Mrs. H. Staples Potter and Mrs. S. M. Snyder of Boston.

Mrs. Hand a Hostess.

Mrs. Hand, wife of Capt. Hand of Schofield Barracks, was hostess at a bridge party Tuesday at Leliana. The guests included Mrs. Aloe, Mrs. Clifton Carter, Mrs. Sturges, Mrs. Macomb, Mrs. Cruikshank, Mrs. Ossley, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Bell, Miss Bell, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Orton, Mrs. Diven, Mrs. Greene, Mrs. Willyoung, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Lister, Mrs. Wooten, Mrs. Cheatham, Miss Coombs, Mrs. Pomeroy and Mrs. Tierman.

Miss Schuman Entertains.

Miss Juliet Atwater was the guest of honor at an informal afternoon on Monday, given by Miss Myrtle Schuman. The afternoon was spent playing games for prizes, and Miss Helen Spalding received a box of writing paper. Miss Daphne Damon was the recipient of a book; Miss Pauline Schaefer was given a hand-embroidered handkerchief, and Miss Marion Chapin a box of candy. Among those present were Miss Juliet Atwater, Miss Dora Atwater, Miss Marjorie Chapin, Miss Marion Chapin, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Daphne Damon, Miss Margaret Restarick, Mrs. Carle McLain, Miss Helen McLain, Miss Helen Spalding, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Lucy Diamond, Miss Alice Hoogs, Miss Louise Wichman and Miss Myrtle Schumann.

Younger Set to College Soon.

The members of the younger set who leave for school in the Wilhelmina on the eleventh of September will be chaperoned by Mrs. George R. Carter. Some of those who have already booked their passage are Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Elinor Castle, Miss Carol Low, Miss Margaret Center, Mr. Carter Galt, Mr. Fred Schaefer and Mr. Herman von Holt.

Mrs. Guard's Party.

Miss Juliette Atherton of Honolulu was the guest of honor at a card party given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. R. T. Guard of Hilo. The prizes were given to Mrs. W. H. Smith, Miss Margaret Forrest and Mrs. McKay. Among those present were Miss Juliette Atherton, Miss Leila Titus, Mrs. Harold Fisher, Mrs. Otis English, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Alvah Scott, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. E. N. Holmes, Mrs. Albert Ruddle, Mrs. Harry Irwin, Mrs. E. H. Moses, Mrs. R. T. Moses, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Fred Irwin, Mrs. Vicars, Mrs. James Sisson, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Balding, Mrs. Forbes, Miss Lilinoe Hapal, Miss Shipman and Miss Margaret Forrest.

Social Notes

Mrs. Cooleage of San Jose was the guest of honor at an elaborately appointed poi luncheon given on Thursday by Mrs. E. S. Cunha at Waikiki. Mrs. Cooleage is a former resident of the island, but for the past twenty-six years has made her home on the mainland. This affair of Mrs. Cunha's was a sort of reunion of old friends.

The dining room was decorated with American and Hawaiian flags, while the table was prettily decorated with yellow flowers. Each guest was presented with an illima and malle lei. Kaa's quintet club played during the luncheon hour and in the afternoon. Covers were laid for Mrs. Cooleage, Princess Kahanaloa, Princess Kawananakoa, Mrs. Carl Widemann, Mrs. Carl Holloway, Mrs. S. G. O. King of Oakland, Miss Margaret McIntyre, Mrs. Charles Falk, Mrs. S. L. Peacock, Mrs. John Bowler, Mrs. Sam Kubeby, Mrs. Gussie Schmidt, Mrs. Clara Schmidt, Mrs. E. Bogth, Mrs. Alice Brown, Mrs. Eben Low, Miss Gilliland, Mrs. F. Peterson, Mrs. M. Sterling, Miss Ward, Miss Annie Ward, Miss Lucy Ward, Mrs. Chas. Nichols, Mrs. W. Kea, Mrs. A. D. Larnach, Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. George Herbert, Miss Clara Cummings, Mrs. A. R. Cunha, Mrs. C. C. Cunha, Mrs. William Whitman and Mrs. E. S. Cunha.

The return of Mrs. Alexander Isenberg to Honolulu society after an absence of eight years spent in traveling abroad is indeed a most welcome return. Mrs. Isenberg is occupying her former home on Wilder avenue and luncheon street and as in days past will keep her Monday afternoon and Thursday evening at home. These affairs were looked forward to by all of Mrs. Isenberg's friends and her drawing room was filled on both occasions. Last Monday when Mrs. Isenberg opened the Pleasanton to her friends callers drifted in and out during the entire afternoon. Although her stay in the islands is to be a short one many social affairs have been planned in Mrs. Isenberg's honor. Accompanying his mother is Mr. Alexander Isenberg.

One of the guests at the Langhorne-Parker wedding, who was conspicuous for the unusual beauty of her appearance was Mrs. Charles Templeton Crocker. Mrs. Crocker is introducing the new mode of wearing the hair high on the head in graceful loose coils clasped, in this instance, with diamond pins. At the wedding Mrs. Crocker wore a heliotrope satin, brocade with gold, made in a style of classical simplicity, the mode of draping being particularly smart, enhanced by the willowy suppleness of the figure.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Irwin arrived Thursday from Honolulu, where they have been for the last few months, and are at their home on Washington street. They were the recipients of much social attention during their stay at their beautiful home at Waikiki Beach. One of the most elaborate entertainments was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney at a farewell a few days before the Irwins sailed on the Manchuria. Mrs. Irwin's mother, Mrs. Ivers, accompanied them from the islands.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Lieutenant and Mrs. James Lawrence Kaufman have returned to their home at Mare Island. Lieutenant Kaufman is attached to the torpedo boat destroyer Hopkins, and will probably be stationed at the navy yard until the first of the year. Mrs. Kaufman, who was Miss Elsa Draper formerly entertains her San Francisco friends at their pretty quarters.

Mrs. Harold Naylor arrived Thursday from Honolulu, where Lieutenant Naylor has been stationed for the last few years. She is en route to Fort Leavenworth, Kas., where her husband has been ordered for duty. Mrs. Naylor has many friends in San Francisco who are greeting her during her short stay here.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight and Miss Harriet Bradford arrived yesterday from Honolulu. The Knights will soon occupy their own home on Broadway where Mr. and Mrs. Smart (Thelma Parker) will visit them in the winter. Miss Bradford will leave for the East next month and will resume her studies at Bryn Mawr.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. Edward B. Blanchard, whose picture appears in today's paper, is one of the popular young society matrons. Much to the regret of her friends, Mrs. Blanchard is to leave the city in the very near future for Maui. Although her home will be on that island, it is hoped that she will spend a good share of her time in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Templeton Crocker, who came to town for the Langhorne-Parker wedding Wednesday evening, were hosts at an informal luncheon at the St. Francis yesterday. Among their guests were Mrs. Malcolm Whitman and Miss Virginia Joliffe.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Captain John Elliott, who is taking his ship, the Maryland, to Japan to represent our Navy at the funeral of the late Emperor will probably be joined in the Orient by Mrs. Elliott and Miss Priscilla Elliott. The latter is visiting friends in Honolulu and Mrs. Elliott is at present in Bremer ton.

Miss Juliet Atwater left in the Honolulu on Tuesday for her home in Oakland. Miss Atwater has been visiting here this summer and has with her sister Miss Dora Atwater been a guest of honor at several of the social functions given by the members of the Younger Set.

Mrs. Kirby Smith was hostess Tuesday evening for the Tuesday Night Bridge Club. The prizes were given to Mr. Sheedy and Lieut. Preston. Among those present were Lieut. and Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Morris, Mr. Sheedy and Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Smith.

Miss Helen Rockwell and her mother, Mrs. Rockwell, who have been the house-guests of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Pratt, on the Diamond Head road this season, will leave for the mainland in the September transport sailing the first week of that month.

The beautiful model hats selected by Miss Power on her recent eastern trip are excellent examples of the latest Parisian styles and in many instances show decided changes from the hats of the present season.

Mr. and Mrs. Antone Cropp, who have been visiting in the islands for some time, will leave here in September. Mrs. Cropp has become a social favorite here and her departure will be regretted by the members of the Smart Set.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rycroft, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, leaves in the Mauna Kea today to visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. S. Campbell of Hilo.

Mrs. A. G. Hawes Jr., whose picture appears in today's paper has been confined to her rooms since her return to Honolulu, but is now recovering and will soon be able to accept many of the invitations she has received.

Miss May Thomas entertained at the Hawaiian Hotel Wednesday night.

Miss Elinor Castle and Miss Cross are spending a few days on Maui.

Miss Rose Herbert entertained at an informal card party Thursday afternoon.

On Monday evening Miss Elizabeth and Miss Phoebe Carter are entertaining at a swimming, supper and dancing party at Kaiku.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell and family, who have been at Haleiwa for the past week, have returned to their town home.

Miss Clair Kelley and her sister, Miss Gladys Kelley, leave today for the east, where they will make a visit of several months.

Miss Ethel Spalding, who for the past week has been the house-guest of Miss Harriet Young on Tantalus, has returned to her home in town.

Miss Gertrude Hofsgaard of Kauai is visiting in Honolulu.

The Carl Walters are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hans Isenberg on Kauai.

Miss Orpah Starratt has as her houseguest Miss Evelyn Scott of Chicago.

Mrs. Freitas, formerly Miss Adele Dreier of this city, who has been making a short visit here, will leave in the Sierra today.

Mrs. F. T. Bickerton will be an incoming passenger on the Manchuria from San Francisco, where she has been spending the summer.

Mr. George Cannavaro who has been in Honolulu for some time visiting his father will leave Honolulu on Tuesday to take up his former position in Washington.

Some of the friends of Dr. Hounters who is well known in the islands have received photographs of himself taken in Court Dress. Dr. Hounters it will be remembered was presented at Court at the first levee of the King.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranny Scott have as their house guest Mr. Ernest Hartman of Porto Rico who is well known here among the members of the Smart Set.

Miss Ina Ferguson who was to have entertained at Five Hundred today has postponed her entertaining until the thirty-first of August.

Mrs. O. Omsted of this city will leave on the third of September en route to her old home in Norway where she will remain for a year or more.

Miss Rosamond Swansy is entertaining a number of the members of the
